HELD UP!

A C. AND O. TRAIN STOPPED BY ROBBERS!

No. 1—the "Cincinnati Express" of the C. and O.—was over an hour late this morning.

But the average chaps who sat on the viaduct and saw her go by was not aware of the cause.

THE LEDGER, with its "nose for news," is able to explain matters.

When she reached Gauley at 12:51 this morning a gang of would-be train robbers "held her up."

They stopped the train and demanded that the Engineer shut off the air—as they evidently had an idea that such process would enable them to "go through the safe."

The Engineer, who was somewhat of a strategist, gave a wink to his Fireman and both "took to the bushes," which were easily accessible in that wild region.

The "greenhorn" robbers had by this time recovered their "sober, sound thought," and came to the conclusion that they had an elephant—and didn't know what to do with it.

After a brief consultation they, too, took to the bushes, and later the Engineer and his Fireman came out from their hiding and the train proceeded, without the passengers knowing why they had been delayed.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect For the Next Twenty-four Hours.

we'll see

THE above forecasts are made for a period of twenty-four hours, ending at 4 o'clock to-morrow evening.

SUDDENLY CALLED.

Mr. John Kincaid Died at Maysville Wednesday Night.

A sad and sudden death occurred at Maysville Wednesday night.

Mr. John Kincaid of Huntington, W. Va., with his nine-year-old son, was visiting his uncle, Mr. W. T. Pogue, at Maysville.

Mr. Kincaid has been in failing health for some time, and he thought a visit to the country might be the means of improving his condition.

Wednesday all day he was complaining, but no one thought it was serious, and after retiring for the night he was suddenly seized with cramps and died within a few minutes.

Mr. Kincaid was for a number of years a prosperous farmer of Boyd county, residing near Ashland, but on account of failing health he gave up farming and moved to Huntington, where his wife died some time ago. He was highly connected and well liked by all who knew him.

The remains were shipped to Huntington last night, where they will be interred today.

He leaves one little boy and a number of relatives in this section of the state.

MR. JAHU DEWITT MILLER.

The Eloquent Lecturer at the Opera House Last Evening.

A most delightful entertainment at the Opera-house last evening was the closing of another successful year in the history of the High School.

The graduates were greeted with one of the largest audiences of the season, and the Principals, Miss Fannie I. Gordon and Dr. Dimmitt C. Hutchins, are certainly to be congratulated.

The program was opened by a march, the pupils arranging themselves in a pretty manner on the stage for a chorus, after which the scholars retired, leaving the graduates and Principals on the stage.

The class was an unusually large one this year, eleven young ladies, Misses Ruth Allender, Sallie Ball, Florence Barkley, Edith Berry, Bessie Calk, Mary Chambers, Bessie Childs, Nannie Gaby, Alice Kirk, Ritchie May Tolle, Lyda Woods, and five young gentlemen, Messrs. Harry Pangburn, Samuel Bierboer, Edward Fairfax Dulin Moss, Ethas Bradley, Courtenay Respass, finishing the course and receiving their diplomas.

Miss Bertha Sparks was prevented on account of illness from finishing her studies, and hence did not graduate.

After the chorus, Hon. W. H. Wadsworth, President of the Board of Education, introduced Mr. Jahu De Witt Miller.

Mr. Miller is no stranger to the people of Maysville, having lectured at the High School on several occasions.

He is an eloquent speaker and one gifted with that power to make himself a great success on the American platform.

His subject, "Is the World Growing Better or Worse?" was an appropriate selection for the evening, and during his talk of an hour and a half was given the best attention of his audience.

At the close Mr. Wadsworth delivered the diplomas to the graduates. Medals were also awarded to Misses Ethel Vicroy and Alberta Helmer of the Intermediate Department in the High School building and to Misses Anna Kirk and Ethel Hutchison of the Intermediate Department in the Fifth Ward school taught by Professor Berry.

Books were given by Professor Berry to Masters Warren Oeder and William Nelson.

These medals and books were given for scholarship and deportment only, attendance not taken into consideration.

Music by the Maysville Orchestra added much to the pleasure of the occasion.

MAYSVILLE-KNOXVILLE!

THE LEDGER'S SPECIAL FROM THE BALL GAMES.

ROBBED US AGAIN.

The Knoxville "Indians" are not "honest Indians."

If they were, they would come off their own dunghill and play ball, where the "umpire" and the "rooters" would at least give visitors a fair deal.

Yesterday's game was again won by Umpire Denny, as will be seen by the following telegram:

Special to Public Ledger.
Knoxville, June 11th—7:30 p. m.
Knoxville 4.
Maysville 2.

There were 900 in attendance on the last game between the Maysville and Knoxville teams today.

Knoxville won by hard hitting. Maysville—Miller and Gibson.

Hits—3.
Errors—1.
Struck out—By Miller 3.
Bases on balls—Off Miller 2.

Maysville—Newton and Keller.
Bases on balls—Off Newton 6.
Home runs—Keller and Lautenbach.
Denny was the Umpire, and the time of the game was 1 hour and 40 minutes.

The Maysville team leaves for home tonight.

L. C. BLANKENSHIP.

The Locals will arrive at 1:30 p. m. and go direct to the Park, where they will also go direct after the Alerts.

There will be an interesting game this afternoon at the Park, and there should also be a large crowd out.

The boys certainly deserve lots of credit for the way they have handled the entire city of Knoxville this time. But maybe they'll get a chance at only nine of them some day up here, and then we'll show those people that by fair play their club isn't one.

UGLY FALL.

Mr. Conrad Rudy Makes a Most Miraculous Escape.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Conrad Rudy made a miraculous escape from serious if not fatal injury.

He has been confined to his house for some time with ailments peculiar to old age, and has required constant watchfulness and care.

Last afternoon he fell from the window of his room to the ground below, a distance of some ten or twelve feet, and singularly enough escaped with only a few bruises.

Mr. Rudy will be 81 years old next September, and in his enfeebled condition it is remarkable that he was not seriously hurt.

QUICK WORK.

How Judge Harbeson's Court Dispatches Criminal Business.

On the 6th of last March George Moran, living near Sardin, lost a horse.

Jarrett B. Williams was the supposed thief.

The horse was soon after found near Ashland.

But Williams went to Scott county and lived under the alias of Ed. Bickler.

Late Wednesday night Chief of Police Lushy of Georgetown brought him to this city and lodged him in Jail.

Thursday morning he was arraigned in the Police Court, waived examination and was held by Judge Wadsworth to the Circuit Court.

In a few moments Judge Harbeson had a Special Grand Jury summoned.

An indictment was found, Williams was taken into Court, He entered a plea of guilty.

And his punishment was fixed at two years in the Penitentiary.

All this between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. And if the law had not prevented the passing of sentence under two days, Judge Harbeson would have started the prisoner to Frankfort in charge of Sheriff Jefferson at 5:30 Friday morning.

WHAT HE SAYS

Governor Bradley Will Not Accept a Cabinet Office.

HE DEFINES HIS POSITION.

Says McKinley Did Not Write Him a Free Silver Letter.

DOESN'T HURT McKINLEY.

Governor Bradley's much heralded interview has been given out and neither of the McKinley letters were used in the statement.

The interview was caused by the publication of the garbled portions of a letter written Major McKinley by Governor Bradley, but the interview does not attempt to tell what McKinley's letters contained, because of the Governor's idea of the proprieties about the treatment of a private communication.

Bradley felt that an attempt had been made to impeach his money record by means of that letter, and his statement is simply a defense of his currency position, but not an attack on Major McKinley.

A consultation of leading Republicans was held in the Executive office prior to the giving out the interview. Several of these gentlemen were in favor of publishing not only the McKinley letters, but several letters written by leading Republicans, and received about the time the McKinley letter reached Governor Bradley.

The Governor, however, refused to entertain any such proposition, insisting that the letters were private, and could not be used with regard to honor be published.

The interview follows: "I cannot permit the Washington dispatch to the Chicago Record to pass unchallenged. In response, I deny that I ever was the representative of Mr. Hanna in any way, nor is it true that my action was ever controlled or governed in the slightest degree by what is politically called in that dispatch the 'Platt-Clarkson crowd.' There was never any combination between those gentlemen or any of them and myself or any of my friends.

I have not attempted to make terms with Mr. McKinley or any of his managers or with any one of the Presidential aspirants or any of their managers. I have not offered to trade sixteen votes or any vote for the Vice-Presidency, nor will I be a candidate for Vice-President, nor would I accept a Cabinet position.

Governor Bradley, in company with a party of prominent Kentucky Republicans, will leave on a special train Monday for St. Louis.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA! AMERICANS!

It won't be absolutely safe to "holer" till your favorite is safely out of the St. Louis woods.

The quickest and the quietest way to reduce wages of workmen is to reduce the value of the money in which wages are paid.

THE LEDGER is ready to accept the result at St. Louis, whatever it may be; and that is a great deal more than some of the mouthsmiths will do.

WHENEVER a person "defeats the people's choice," it looks very much like the "person" had the majority on his side, and that the "people" was in a woful minority.

THE Canadian farmer must be looking forward with satisfaction to the harvesting of his next hay crop. During the McKinley Tariff period our imports of foreign hay averaged only 80,000 tons a year, but in nine months of the current fiscal year we imported not less than 246,514 tons, practically all of which came from Canada.

THE total population of the silver mining communities, including all those who are directly or indirectly dependent on silver money for a living, cannot exceed 700,000. Why should the interests of the 70,000,000 people of the United States be sacrificed to the supposed interests of this small fraction of their number? Isn't it a pretty insignificant tail to wag such a stupendous dog?

The Ordinance levying the taxes for 1898 appears elsewhere in THE LEDGER.

The statement is made by those very close to the Hon. Charles J. Bronston, and who seem to know whereof they speak, that gentleman will not be a candidate for Congress in the Ashland District. At the proper time Mr. Bronston will so declare himself, and Colonel Breckinridge will have practically a clear track, so far as the Eastern end of the District is concerned.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done me a great deal of good and I feel very thankful for it." For sale by J. James Wood, Druggist.

YELLOW METAL.

A Gold Plank Will Go Into the National Republican Platform.

"McKinley and Sound Money" Will Be the Cry of the Campaign.

The Western Silverites Are to Be Pushed Aside—The Only Question Now Is Concerning the Vice Presidency.

St. Louis, June 12.—The announcement by Joseph H. Manley, of Maine, that Speaker Reed is entirely out of the contest, and that his name may be presented but will not be voted for, has set the McKinleyites on edge.

They are simply enthusiastic, and have no hesitations in saying that now there will be no opposition to the Ohio man. At the Hanna headquarters there was a vast amount of enthusiasm. Mr. Galtree and Mr. Hanna smile and say that everything is all right. There is no question now about the result. McKinley will be nominated on the first ballot and the platform will be pretty solid for gold.

The only question now about the vice presidency, I thought Wednesday that McAlpin, of New York, or Redfield Proctor, of New England, would be easily nominated, but there are indications that the nominee may be a western or southern man. Tennessee is still interested in H. Clay Evans, and will stand by him to the end.

The truth is, however, that no man from the West has a ghost of a chance of securing the nomination, and that the best outlook is for Hobart, of New Jersey, who has the endorsement of his state and is a remarkably good all-around statesman. It is conceded now, however, that McKinley will be nominated on the first ballot, and that country will be enthusiastic in his interest.

The only question is as to the ability of his majority in the convention and outside. The result is so certain that no name will be presented but that of McKinley, and in consequence there will be a great republican McKinley boom.

The important question at this juncture concerns the vice presidency. Reed will not have it and has authorized Villard to say there are no chances under which he could be persuaded to accept. After Reed comes John G. Schuyler, of New York; McAlpin, of New York; and a lot of candidates who are liable to have splendid support. So far as the platform is concerned it will be solidly for gold. The opposition to the western senators has no influence, and the belief now is that everything will go for gold.

Back of that is the question whether the western senators and delegates will bolt, but those now here are quiet in their determination to stay to the end of the gathering. There will be no difference on the platform. Gold, silver or compromise will suit the delegates, and in spite of all that has been said by the westerners, a gold platform will go. There were indications Thursday that Senator Teller, of Colorado, would interfere with the platform, but it is evident now that he cannot accomplish anything, and must necessarily go for the platform.

Of course, devoted to free silver, and there are many Ohioans of all political parties who want him to be a candidate for the presidency. But the annual meeting, to be held this year at Buffalo, N. Y., July 7-11.

Chairman Manley Gives the Reason for the Statement Made,
In Which He Concedes McKinley's Nomination on First Ballot.

St. Louis, June 12.—Mr. J. H. Manley, of Maine, has been deluged Thursday with telegrams requesting him to explain or qualify his statement given to the United Press Wednesday, in which he conceded that Maj. McKinley would be nominated on the first ballot; but declared that Speaker Reed would remain in the field to a finish. Late today the Maine State Journal editorially committed Mr. Manley to the position, and the mitteman from Maine formally signed statement to the United Press.

"The action of the national committee at their meeting of Wednesday, showing clearly their intention of placing in the temporary roll delegates from Maine, and the fact that, at the end, would mean 100 additional votes, caused me to make the statement that I did."

An immense canvass picture of the speaker was placed in position in the rotunda of the parlor floor of the Southern Thursday afternoon. Reed buttons and badges are also making their appearance and there is every indication that his boom is to be given.

SHORT CONVENTION.

It was thought that the nominations would be made before next Thursday, but matters are shaping up so that it is already said to be quite probable that the convention will conclude its work by Wednesday evening. The visitors would be suited with this, but the local people object, as they want to keep the crowd on hand as long as possible and make as much money out of it as possible. Whether the delegates, after the treatment given the colored portion of them, will consent to oblige the citizens is to be seen.

RUSSIAN RULER'S TITLES.

A Portentous String Proclaiming Him Ruler Over Scores.

New York Sun.

The title of the ruler of all the Russians, as it was proclaimed solemnly in the Cathedral of the Assumption on May 26th, at the time of the crowning of the Czar, reads as follows:

"Nicholas II, by the grace of God, Emperor and autocrat of all the Russians, Czar of Moscow, of Kiev, Vladimir, Norodgor, Kazan, Czar of Astrakhan, Czar of Poland, Czar of Siberia, Czar of Kherson of the Taurus, Czar of Georgia, Lord of Pskov, Grand Duke of Smolensk, of Lithuania, of Volynia, of Podolsk, and of Finland, Prince of Ekausia, of Livonia, of Kurland, of Semigalia, of Samogitia, of Bieloostok, of Kurland, of Tver, of Ygor, of Perm, of the Bulgarians and others; the monarch and Grand Duke of Novgorod, the Lowlands, Tchernigov, Riazan, Polotsk, Rostov, Yaroslavl, Bieloorsk, Odolsk, Oboorsk, Kondyck, Ytyshek, Mslavsk, and commander of all the Northern lands, and the ruler of all the lands of Ivrsk, Kartalinik, the Kardinians, and the Armenian provinces; hereditary sovereign and possessor of the mountainier principalities and of the Tcherkesses; the monarch of Turkestan, heir to the throne of Norway, Duke of Schleswig-Holstein, of Stormarn, of Wismar, of Oldenburg, &c."

The "c." in the case seems to stand for anything on the face of the globe that a Czar of Russia may subsequently claim as his lawful possession. In case such a claim be disputed on the strength of the fact that the Czar has never yet styled himself the possessor or heirs to the land in question in this official title, Russian diplomatists could always point to the convenient "c." in the official title of the Czar, claiming that the mention of that possessor had been for convenience's sake merged in that extensible "c."

As it is, formidable even now are the numbers represented by the subjects of the Czar. According to the last official returns, as published in 1896, there are no less than 129,177,000 men, women and children living within the confines of the Russian Empire. Subdivided as they are, the subjects of the Czar are grouped as follows: There are 82,000,000 Russian Slavs, 8,000,000 Poles, 5,000,000 Finns, 4,000,000 Lithuanians, 4,000,000 Hebrews, 4,000,000 Germans, 9,000,000 Tartars, 2,000,000 Caucasian mountaineers and 7,000,000 people of various other races and tribes.
